With Special Guest Speaker, Patricia McGovern, Chairman and Head of Intellectual Property at DFMG Solicitors

Patricia and her team at DFMG Solicitors advise on all aspects of intellectual property and information technology, both contentious and non-contentious. She also advises on data protection issues.

Patricia lectures extensively on the topic of data protection including on the Irish Law Society Diploma Course on data protection. She is a former Chair and current member of the Irish Law Society Intellectual Property and Data Protection Committee and is active in many international IP organisations. She is currently Chair of the International Trade Mark Association Data Protection Sub-Committee on Enforcement.
